1- We have discussed this with Jim McDonald, along with [redacted] of OGC. While most sympathetic with the very real problem of a contracting officer trying to please his DDS&T boss, perhaps at the expense of his objectivity, we made the following observations:

a. Although this may be the best (or worst) example, there are many other similar situations of DDA careerists serving in other directorates, e.g., certifying officers, admin and personnel officers, and regional medical and security officers.

b. This general problem was discussed at length by the Executive Committee, which decided (over DDA and D/Pers objection) to make the directorate of assignment responsible for performance appraisal and award recommendation.

c. If an exception were to be granted, it should include having the D/LOG prepare the AWP and the PAR as well, as these are vital to the award process.

Based on the above, Jim decided not to press for a DDCI exception on this at this time. He did however want it brought to your attention.
